HOW WE GAVE
S'MORE
TO CSISD KIDS

April 21, 2022

A&M CONSOLIDATED HIGH SCHOOL

Health Science Simulator- Sara Lynn Willis & Kimberley Decker

Students pursuing medical careers get hands-on practice learning procedures, techniques and diagnostics with ECG and Blood Pressure Simulators. The health science tools allow students to gain valuable clinical experience for industry-based certifications which has been difficult due to COVID restrictions at local health care facilities. The grant award of $6,600 “gets the blood pumping” for 300+ students each year.

Sponsored by: Schultz Engineering — Joe & Julie Schultz

Student Run Print Shop - Lee Graebner

Young entrepreneurs will work with school clubs, organizations, and other clients to design and manufacture t-shirts and other products by utilizing heat transfer print technology. Students will be engaged in hands-on practices that will improve design, interpersonal and business skills. The multi-campus grant of $14,000 invests in hundreds of 9th-12th grade students at AMCHS and CSHS. Sponsored by: Culpepper Realty

Putting a Button on School Spirit - Elizabeth Engelhardt

Students with special needs gain important job skills and build school spirit as they manage a business providing buttons and gear for the Tiger community. Learning in functional environments prepares students for the workforce and builds self-confidence. The investment of $1,900 button's up success for students in special education.

SPRING CREEK ELEMENTARY

Success Begins with Chess - Amy Ruiz

Checkmate! Growing minds develop strong academic skills and build social-emotional strength as they learn the game of chess. The giant outdoor chess set deepens focus, elevates creativity, and sharpens problem-solving skills. This grant of $1,000 opens up the game for 650 students every year. Sponsored by Oldham Goodwin Group/Greens Prairie Reserve

Diving into Diverse Book Clubs - Cassandra Reynolds

Fourth grade scholars will dive into deep discussion as they engage in book clubs. Brand new titles and exciting topics await eager readers. The book clubs enhance literacy skills, deepen communication abilities, and spark critical thinking. An investment of $900 will prepare the dive for 130 students each year. Sponsored by Southern Smiles Dentistry

Calm, Cool & Collected - Riley Ostermann

Teachers at every elementary school are equipped with the tools and resources to help children manage behavioral challenges. In the “cool down room”, students learn to regulate their emotions and behaviors in a safe and appropriate way, positively impacting them, and everyone around them. The multi-campus grant of $6,800 provides breathing room for over 5,600 students. Sponsored by St. Joseph Health
